FOREWORD.

In this catalogue will be found the third and final offering of the coins, numismatic books, old newspapers and historical matter collected by F. W. Doughty, Esqr., of Ramapo, N. Y.

Mr. Doughty has been well known to coin collectors for many years, and his contributions to numismatics include several books and pamphlets.

To historical collectors the offerings in this sale will be of exceptional interest, as many of the old manuscripts and letters refer to old and influential New York families, institutions, and landmarks, and the names of such noted families as Stuyvesant, De Peyster, Van Rennsselaer, Van Courtlandt, Cruger, Mortier, Washington, Burr, Fitz Green Halleck, Lee, and others are written upon them.

Interesting accounts of the battles of the French and Indian War and the Revolution will be found in the old newspapers. Among the play bills is one used at Ford's Theatre, Washington, during the memorable night when Lincoln was assassinated, and those with Forrest, Mr. Kemble and Fanny Kemble are included. Revolutionary documents and broadsides, Civil War papers, a fine set of Colonial and Continental paper money and Confederate Money, add to the interest. The addition of a varied lot of coins, with a splendid lot of ancient Greek and Roman silver will attract the numismatists. The collection of medals at the end of the catalogue is of considerable size, and the presidents from Washington to Lincoln are nearly all represented by splendid portraits in bronze.
